

RESERVE

Alto Saxophone Reeds

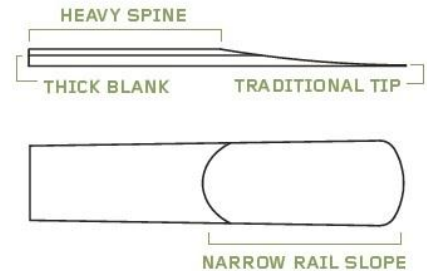

Reserve reeds are crafted using naturally-grown cane from D'Addario's own fields. D'Addario has pioneered the first practical and precise system to digitally measure and cut the incredibly complex geometrical patterns necessary to reinvent single reeds. Reserve reeds are cut to the tightest tolerances, offering the most consistent performance.

- Ideal for the advancing student and professional
- Expertly designed and made in the USA (from foreign materials) by a team of top musicians and engineers
- Available in half strengths, from 2.0 to 4.5, with a special 3.0+ strength
- Offered in boxes of ten (10) and packs of two (2) reeds

> RESERVE

- A thick blank reed that offers
 - a rich, warm tone
 - a heavy spine that promotes dynamic flexibility and exceptional tone quality in all registers
 - a narrow rail slope to produce consistency of response
 - a traditional tip thickness for ease of articulation
